"MASHER" GETS SIX MONTH&

Attempts a Street Flirtation and Gets a Term in Prison.

New York, July 17 .- A six months' sentence to prison for a passing street firtation with a married woman was imposed on Benjamin F. Smith, who came here from St. Louis, by Magistrate Steinert today.

Late last evening Mrs. Grace M. Gamble, who is handsome and dresses stylishly, was waiting for her husband, a Brooklyn business man, at Madison avenue and Forty-second street subway entrance. Smith was passing and spoke to her. Mrs. Gamble resented this, struck Smith in the face and caused his arrest.

In court today, although Mrs. Gamble herself requested leniency to the prisoner, the magistrate imposed sentence and at the same time invited other women who suffered from "the mashers" to act as did Mrs. Gamble,

"I knew no one, for four weeks, when I was sick with typhoid and kidney trouble," writes Mrs. Annie Hunter of Pitteburg, Pa., "and when I got better. although I had one of the best doctors I could get, I was bent double, and had te rest my hands on my knees when I walked. From this terrible affliction I was rescued by Electric Bittors, which restored my health and strength, and BEAU BRUMMEL.

Some Incidents In the Life of This Noted English Fop.

An English paper prints a number of stories of Beau Brummel, some of which perhaps are not generally known. At the Pavilion, at Brighton, he ordered the footman to empty his snuffbox into the fire because a bishop had taken a pinch unasked. A man whom he had met at dinner offered him a lift in hi carriage to Lady Jersey's ball "Thank you exceedingly," said the Beau, "but how are you to go? You would not like to get up behind, and I cannot be seen in the same carriage with you." He made no secret of his humble birth and when asked about his parents declared that "the poor old creatures both cut their throats years ago eating peas with a knife." Once at least Brummel met his match. He was playing basard at Brooks', when a well known alderman, a brewer, was one of the party. "Come, Mashtub," said Brummel, who was the caster, "what's your set?" "Twenty-five guineas," was the reply. Well, then, have at the mayor's pony." said Brummel, who proceeded to cust, and by a run of luck won the stake twelve times in succession. Pocketing the money, he thanked the brewer and promised that in future he would drink no one's porter but his. "I wish, sir." replied the brewer, "that every other blackguard in London would tell me the same."
